Round Hill Schools Suffer Casualties

Both the white school and the colored school at Round Hill suffered casualties over the week-end. The white school is closed until repairs can be made to its heating plant and the colored schoolhouse burned down Saturday night. The fire it is believed was of incendiary origin.

Plans have been made to transport the colored children to the Purcellville colored school and the teacher of the Round Hill school, Mrs. Hannah Bacchus, has been added to the Purcellville faculty.

Dr. F. T. Hauser announces that due to his health and need for more rest during the day, he has changed his office hours to the following:

10:00 a. m. to 12:00 m.

6:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m.

years in the Pacific theater of the war. He is an ardent horseman and since his arrival has been fox-hunting with the Piedmont Hounds.

ARMY-NAVY TESTS TUESDAY

Charles S. Monroe, principal of the Leesburg High School, called attention today to the Army Navy College Qualifying Test to be administered in the library of the Leesburg High School on Tuesday, November 9. The examination will begin promptly at 9 o'clock. Candidates should arrive at the examination room between 8:45 and 8:55 a. m.

ROUND HILL SCHOOL CLOSED

The white school at Round Hill closed this week for repairs to the furnace. Although every effort is being made by the School Board to obtain parts, it is probable that school work will be discontinued there for a month.

$1,282 FOR HOSPITAL

The Loudoun Hospital will benefit in the amount of $1,282 from the annual Householders Campaign according to a report made by Mrs. C. Basil Hall, Middleburg, chairman.

Each year every householder in the county is given the opportunity to make a contribution to the local hospital, the campaign opening on National Hospital Day. At this season the total amount of funds is turned over to Dr. H. C. Littlejohn, treasurer of the Hospital Board.

SUPPER AT ALDIE NOV. 11

The Aldie Parent-Teacher Association will serve a chicken supper at the high school on Thursday, November 11, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

FEW CHRISTMAS TOYS

Santa Claus may be unable to step at many homes this year because stocks of toys for Christmas selling are only about 50 per cent of normal, the Toy Manufacturers sponsoring the Drive, said he was hopeful, but none too confident that mails from outlying districts would over the week-end bring the total subscribed to an amount sufficient to reach the county's quota.

Chairman Tiffany pointed out that Loudoun has heretofore met—and in an impressive way—every call made upon it for war purposes—and expressed the hope that the current campaign would be no exception to the rule. He urged that persons in the county contemplating making a donation, do so before Saturday, the date on which the campaign comes to a close.

Bruce McIntosh, president of the Peoples National Bank, is treasurer of the fund.

Numerous war activities are included in the War Fund. Chief amongst them is the USO, the one organization that really is close to the hearts of fighting men. It is this outfit that endeavors to provide entertainment, cheer and comfort for soldiers on leave in communities strange to them.

Dr. Wiley Delivers Last Sermon Friday

The Rev. Dr. J. Hundley Wiley will deliver his last sermon in the Leesburg Baptist Church on Friday evening, his subject, "The Cross of Christ."

In addition to his sermon program, Dr. Wiley spoke last night at the meeting of the Leesburg Lions Club and this evening will be a guest of the Rotary Club.

—Dr. Wiley, who has been a guest this week at the Leesburg Inn, has been accorded an exceptionally friendly welcome in the community and has been honored by an unusually large congregation.

After his sermon Friday night, Dr. Wiley is being sent by the Southern Baptist Board of Foreign Missions as a special student in Race Relations at the University of North Carolina. He expects to return to China upon completion of his course of study.
