

Out of the Attic

Old School At Lincoln

Built in 1879, this handsome old brick structure is now the home of Chosen Books, Inc., a publishing house in Lincoln. It was Lincoln Elementary School in 1918 when Bentley Gregg made this picture. Use of the building for greater part of its existence has been for public education. At three different periods of time it served as a school, the last year being about 1955. Chosen Books bought the building and began operations there in 1978.

(photo loaned by G. Holmes Gregg)

